From the Chair

I hope that you have had a restful and reinvigorating time this summer. Our members have attended workshops and conferences, conventions and camps, and some reviews are included in this issue.

We are looking forward to this year's 52nd Annual Adult Choral Festival, with guest conductor Marguerite Brooks of the Yale Institute. The theme that she has chosen is "Peace and Longing," with a wonderful variety of challenging music for us to sing together at the Festival service on October 16th. Even if your choir is not planning to attend as a group, please consider coming!

I've written frequently about the St. James Music Press publications, and have collected their choral books and DVD collections. They have changed their format to an online service, but their liturgical planning features may be accessed without cost. If you own any of their books already, you can see which anthems might be applicable for a particular Sunday. See the text box on p. 8 for more information. Highly recommended for choirs of all sizes!

The Diocesan Choir Camp will have a 20th Anniversary Celebration next summer, and we're hoping to invite alumni Choir Campers to join us. Join our Facebook group, Episcopal Diocese of Texas Choir Camp, for more information as the dates and details are worked out. We have seen many wonderful musicians and current conductors and soloists come through the Camp!

Our Youth Festival has been moved to the month of January, to avoid conflicts with UIL Choral competitions in November. The upcoming date is Saturday, January 21, 2012.

Please read the information about the "Music that Makes Community" event in October in Houston. It is a learning opportunity for those who might lead worship for small groups without instruments—youth, bible studies, etc. While not for every situation, there are probably opportunities to use these techniques and musical selections in most parishes. James Derkits would be happy to give you more information about the event and its use in your ministry.

I'll look forward to greeting many of you in October at the Choral Festival. Please let us know if we can help you and your ministry in any way this fall.

Faithfully,

DIOCESAN CHOIR CAMP 2011

Twenty three campers from thirteen different parishes attended the 19th Annual Diocesan Choir Camp in Brenham, TX. They stayed in the Blinn College dormitory and ate most meals in the college's Student Center cafeteria. This year's session brought a group in rising grades 3-8 with wonderful choral skills, quickly learning a musical and hymns and anthems in various styles. Swimming at the Blue Bell Aquatic Center, pottery lessons from professional potter Doug Peck of St. Peter's and Blinn College, and recorder lessons from Dr. Wendy Bergin were part of the week's schedule. Field trips to Camp for All, the Blue Bell Ice Cream factory and Horseshoe Junction Family Fun Park took place. The campers prepared a musical, "I Need a Vacation" which was performed for campers at the special-needs camp, Camp for All, on Wednesday and for their parents and the public on Friday evening. On Saturday morning, the campers ended the session by singing Morning Prayer at St. Peter's.

This year's conductor was Julia Hall, of St. Mark's, Houston and Memorial Middle School. She was assisted by Jackson Hearn, accompanist, of Good Shepherd, Kingwood and Linda Patterson of St. Peter's. College music majors served as rehearsal assistants and counselors.

Once again, the Music Commission was able to partner with the Commission on Black Ministry to identify and provide scholarships for qualifying children.

Next year will be the 20th Anniversary Session of Diocesan Choir Camp. Special alumni activities are being planned. For more information, join the "Diocese of Texas Choir Camp" Facebook group to receive details as they become available and reconnect with former campers and staff. Dates and applications will be available in the near future.

Mary's journey from humble maiden to grieving mother has inspired composers throughout the centuries. This evening of music in a great space weaves together works spanning 500 years: from the triple-choir setting of the Stabat Mater by Renaissance composer Felice Anerio, to the transcendent mysticism of Arvo Part's recent setting of the Magnificat, and John Taverner's Song to the Mother of God. Perhaps the most widely loved song of all, Schubert's Ave Maria, brings the concert to a poignant close.

The Leadership Program for Musicians (LPM)

The Leadership Program for Musicians is a teaching ministry that gives church musicians an increased sense of vocational awareness, along with the tools and resources to enable congregations to sing well and participate actively in worship.

The Leadership Program for Musicians is a national organization who administers a curriculum covering key areas in church music and liturgical education as well as spiritual formation. LPM is a program of the Episcopal Church USA and the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. LPM is taught by highly qualified teachers and tailored to local needs. Success completion of all courses earns the LPM Certificate in Church Music. The program is taught locally and covers a full range of church music skills. Particular attention is paid to smaller church needs.

LPM is a two-year program with seven courses, which may be taken in whole or part: Leadership of Congregational Song (piano/organ/keyboard, voice/cantor, or guitar/other instruments), Teaching New Music to the Congregation, Survey of Christian Hymnody, Liturgy and Liturgical Planning: Foundations for Christian Worship, Resources for an Effective Music Program, Principles for Choral Leadership: Conducting for Church Musicians and Voice Training for Choirs, and Philosophy of Church Music.

LPM 2011-2012 in Texas will be held at St. Thomas Episcopal Church, College Station. The first session is a free Open House with optional classes on Saturday, October 8. The Open House is at noon and includes a free lunch. Classes are from 9:15-3:30. For more information, a complete brochure, or to RSVP, contact Marsha Seale, LPM Coordinator, 713-562-6972, mkseale52@msn.com. The national website is www.lpm-online.org.

Sewanee Church Music Conference-2011

They came from far and wide—even Hawaii—150+ musicians; organists, choirmasters and choristers to the 61st annual Sewanee Church Music Conference at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee. As we were being “played in” to the Friday evening Evensong and the Sunday morning Eucharist by conference organist, Todd Wilson, I realized that this particular choir would never sing again in this particular space under the leadership of choirmaster Dale Adelman. It was truly a unique experience and what a wonderful week we had together. This year approximately one-third of the choir was first-timers. Most said that they could not wait to return next year.

Each morning begins with Eucharist followed by breakfast and then rehearsal. A brief lecture by the conference chaplain follows, then more rehearsal time. Each day has its unique schedule. Several reading sessions are included along with classes on hand bell techniques and an organ master class. This year Dale went into great detail in a class on singing Anglican chant.

Todd Wilson and Dale Adelman worked extremely well together. Dale is one of the most patient conductors I have ever seen—and necessarily so because, believe it or not, 150 directors and organists have a really hard time watching and stay with the beat! Our chaplain, Barbara Crofton, related her personal experience in working with church musicians. Not only was she very informative but also extremely humorous. For more information on Barbara, check out her web site, www.geraniumfarm.org.

Next year's clinicians will be Huw Lewis and Bruce Neswick. The conference will begin on July 9, 2012. Start checking the web site, www.frogmusic.com/sewaneeconf in February to download the new conference brochure. If you plan to go, send in your registration fee as soon as you get the brochure (it fills up fast) and don't plan on losing weight while you are there. You will have the best food ever served at a summer conference.

Hope to see you there.

Mike Mason

The Mississippi Conference - by Jackson Heard

The Mississippi Conference on Church Music and Liturgy met in early August at the Duncan M. Gray Conference Center in Canton, Mississippi. The theme for this 36th yearly conference was One Lord, One Faith, One Baptism, Four Great Feasts: How baptism illuminates the Great Feast Days of the Church.

Leadership for this year's conference included Marilyn L. Haskel, Music Associate for St. Paul's Chapel at Trinity Episcopal Church, Wall Street in New York City, and a former music editor for Church Publishing, who focused on congregational song, including "paperless" music and its teaching method in "Music That Makes Community".

The Rev. Carol Wade, the new Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Lexington, KY, and for five years the Canon Precentor at Washington National Cathedral, focused on baptism and creative worship. As one of the "go-to" voices for creating vital church, Carol is currently co-authoring a three-volume worship companion to the award-winning Westminster/John Knox Feasting on the Word series, for which she served as contributing writer.

Organist and composer Sue Mitchell Wallace from Atlanta led classes on liturgical resources and the liturgical use of handbells in addition to playing the organ for services and leading choral reading sessions. She was the composer of this year's commissioned anthem, "Signs and Wonders Lead the Dancing," for SATB, organ, and flute.

Additionally, there were classes on Care of the Voice & Vocal Techniques, and worship services including evensong at St. Philip's in Jackson, Eucharist at St. Andrew's Cathedral, and A Service of Dedication for Musicians & Clergy in the Gray Center Chapel. And one cannot think of Mississippi without thinking of gracious hospitality which is in abundance at this conference, from the delicious meals in the dining room to the Champagne and Chocolate reception and the closing Rose Hill Cabaret. Musicians from our diocese present were Jackson Hearn and Joseph Painter, in addition to several Houstonians from other churches.

Clinicians for 2012 will be our own David Ashley White, composer and Dean of the Moores School of Music at the University of Houston; Richard Webster, Director of Music at Trinity Church, Copley Square, Boston; and The Rev. Ann Gillespie of Christ Church in Alexandria, Va.

AAM Conference

by Jerome Wells

The 2011 Association of Anglican Musicians (AAM) Conference was held this year in the Carolinas, specifically Greenville and Spartanburg, S.C.; Hendersonville and Asheville, N.C. The conference was well organized with the added bonus of superb preaching by The Reverend Michael Sullivan, conference preacher. A particular highlight was Evensong at the Cathedral of All Souls, Asheville, sung beautifully by The Cathedral Singers, Trinity Cathedral, Columbia, S.C. Of particular note was the service music, featuring composers Anthony Piccolo and Lee Hoiby. At the end of the week, it occurred to me that in the past 35 years, this was one of the few conferences I have attended where I heard so much music of such high caliber!

Music that Makes Community XVI - Houston

October 6, 2011 - October 8, 2011

Christ the King Evangelical Lutheran Church - 2353 Rice Boulevard Houston, Texas

Howdy!

Music that Makes Community Houston is coming up October 6-8. St. Mark's Between-the-Bayous is co-hosting this conference put on by All Saint's, San Francisco (think: the behind-the-scenes force supporting St. Gregory of Nyssa, SF, and other innovative liturgical efforts in the church.) It will be held at Christ the King Lutheran, more details go to the link.

http://www.allsaintscompany.org/index.php/events/view/music\_that\_makes\_community\_xvi\_houston

I am excited about the conference because it is a style of music that (as the title suggests) focuses on communities making music. It is primarily a'capella and paperless. It's what we use Between-the-Bayous, and it helps us listen to one another, take responsibility, and it quickly incorporates newcomers. I'm also excited that Emily Scott of St. Lydia's, and the founding rectors of St. Gregory of Nyssa Donald Schell and Rick Fabian will be some of the facilitators.

These gatherings are good for music, and a wonderful place to talk about creative liturgy and spend time with great people. Please let me know if you have questions. I think this will be a good thing, and I hope you can be there, or encourage folks to attend.

Peace,
James

Dr. Robert Young, longtime Music Commission Member;

April 20, 1923 - July 29, 2011

Dr. Robert H. Young, 88, former Professor of Music in the School of Music at Baylor University, died Friday, July 29, 2011, at his home in Waco. A memorial service was held Saturday, Aug. 6, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Waco, with the Rev. Chuck Treadwell officiating.

Dr. Robert H. Young, Emeritus Professor of Choral Music at Baylor University, retired from his position as Mary Gibbs Jones Professor of Music and Director of Graduate Studies in May of 1993, following more than thirty years of distinguished service to Baylor.

Dr. Young was born in Santa Cruz, California, on April 20, 1923. He holds degrees from Otterbein College of Westerville, Ohio (BM), Northwestern University (MM), and the University of Southern California (DMA). His dissertation at USC was entitled "The History of Baptist Hymnody in England from 1612 to 1800." Prior to joining the Baylor University faculty in 1962, Dr. Young served as minister of music at churches in Huntington Park, Oakland, and Los Angeles, California, and was on the faculties of San Francisco Baptist College and the Worship and Arts Conference in Green Lake, Wisconsin.

He is the founder of the Baylor University Chamber Singers, a splendid 16-voice ensemble that has been heard in churches and schools throughout the United States. The Chamber Singers perform music in many forms, ranging from Renaissance to contemporary, both sacred and secular. The group is now conducted by Dr. Donald L. Bailey, Director of Choral Activities at Baylor University. Robert Young is a member of Pi Kappa Lambda music honor society, the Hymn Society of America, and the Choral Conductors Guild. He has composed numerous choral works which have been published by J. Fischer, Carl Fischer, and Word, Inc. Along with the late Dr. Elwyn A. Wienandt, he was co-author of the book The Anthem in England and America, which was published by The Free Press, a division of the Macmillan Company.

Robert Hexter Young, 1923-2011
He was the Choirmaster of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Waco for 27 years. He conducted the Diocesan Choral Festival, planned and organized services for Diocesan Council and most recently, was the Choirmaster for the Consecration of the Rt. Rev. Rayford High at Camp Allen. In 2005, he received the Texas Choral Directors Association Choral Excellence Award.

Two performances of a Memorial Concert will be held at Baylor University on October 23, 2011.

For more information about the concerts, contact Richard Veit

9/11 Hymn Announcement

A new interfaith hymn text suitable for 9/11 services and prayer events is available from Houston church musician Howard Maple. His three-verse text centers around 1 Kings 19:11-12 (God's still, small voice in the midst of devastation) and includes references to light and peace that are found in both the Bible and the Quran. For an emailed PDF file with congregational bulletin insert pages and organ harmonizations for the two hymn tune options, contact Howard at howardmaple@sbcglobal.net. He is granting permission to make free copies for one-time use at services on September 11, 2011.

Festival Music

If you have difficulty downloading the music, we can e-mail you a PDF file.

If you already have this music in your library, you may use your own edition, but do compare to the festival editions for differences.

For easy reference during rehearsals, it is helpful if your choristers have their measures numbered

If you are not receiving an electronic version of this communication, simply Google “Choral Domain Public Library” and search for the following anthems.

Convivencia: The Three Worlds of Medieval/Renaissance Spain

Sunday, September 11, 2011 6:00 p.m.

St. Thomas Episcopal Church

906 George Bush Drive, College Station

Please join us for a concert which explores and celebrates the musical relationships between/among the three great cultures – Muslim, Jewish, and Christian – that co-existed peacefully on the Iberian Peninsula during the Middle Ages and early Renaissance. Islamic Spain during these times was an extraordinarily tolerant culture in which learning was prized. Co-operation, Tolerance, Co-existence – these were the hallmarks of this extraordinary time. And, as we approach the tenth anniversary of the terrorist attacks on the United States, these are qualities much needed in our own day.

The concert will feature the Texas Early Music Project performing Sephardic and Middle-Eastern songs and dances, along with 16th century Spanish polyphony for voices and instruments. Featured performers include recorder player Annette Bauer (Germany), santur and oud player Kamran Hooshmand (Iran), outstanding instrumentalists on psaltery, viols, Renaissance guitar, and other instruments of the period, and an octet of singers. The award-winning Texas Early Music Project is under the direction of founder and Artistic Director Daniel Johnson.

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS:

4:30 – 6:00 p.m. Cultural and Arts Exhibition, in Parish Hall

6:00 – 7:00 p.m. Convivencia Concert, in the Church

7:00 p.m. Reception, in the Parish Hall

CONVIVENCIA is presented by a “Convivencia” of the Institute of Interfaith Dialog, Hillel Foundation, St. Thomas Episcopal Church, and Raindrop Turkish House.
